A Pleasing Contrast

The Washington Herald is optimistic. After the recent talk of panics, hard times, increased cost of living, Wall street manipulations and a lot of other things, some true and some untrue, the Herald editorially calls attention to the fact that the salvation of the country is in work. That paper points out the fact that the great tasks now before this country call for more hands than can readily be found and more brains than are available. The Herald says:

"It is a bit hard to reconcile some of the paradoxes of this modern age. Here is one element of society complaining about the tramp evil and begging that work may be provided for homeless sufferers, and on the other hand we hear that the great trouble with things just now is that we—the world in general—have undertaken too many ambitious projects at once; that there are not hands enough for the tasks that have been set. Charles P. Neill, United States commissioner of labor, declares that 'widespread and unparalleled prosperity of the age have led to the undertaking of more great projects than can be completed within a reasonable time.'"

"And it would really seem that the big jobs are multiplying so fast that it is a grave problem where the workmen are coming from. Here is the United States employing something like 40,000 workmen on the Panama canal, and demanding more, so that it is a question whether or not we shall try Chinese coolie labor once more, as we did when the Pacific railroads had to be constructed. Here is Canada with a demand for 60,000 laborers to aid her in her vast railway projects. 'New York is carrying on works with unskilled labor that employs an army of men; there are new waterworks to cost $160,000,000 and a new bridge to cost $10,000,000, to say nothing of the railroad work necessary by reason of the new tunnels under the river and the new terminals and the new skyscrapers. Here are an army of men employed in the harvest fields of the great west; calls for labor from the South African railways which hope to carry out the Cape-to-Cairo scheme of Cecil Rhodes; Australia demanding immigration—everywhere the cry goes up for men; the work is waiting."

"This is the era of work. Capital must be employed, and to be employed at a profit it has to employ work. It would seem that never before was the opportunity for the workman so rich with possibilities. Work lies on every hand, and out from the mass of laborers the good men will rise and find higher opportunities. This is not the age of King Cotton, or King Wheat, or King Gold—it is the era of King Work—an honest chance for every able man!"

The New York Post: The loyalty of the west to Roosevelt is, in a sense, all the more impressive because it is tempered more than formerly by a realization of the defects of its object. The fact that must be recognized is that Roosevelt is, in the eye of the west, the champion of the people against the powerful corporations which were exploiting them. It is considered beside the point to argue that the same fights might have been better fought in other ways and by other hands. Hence the implicit belief in the man's soundness and the urgency of his policies, which has enabled him to pass without sensible diminution of popularity through episodes that would have gravely affected the career of any other politician. As for the rival candidates now showing themselves before the republican voters, it is hard to see why the earnest Roosevelt man should be expected even to become interested in them. Most of the lot are, by comparison at least, reactionaries, while Taft appears perfectly content to pose merely as a mirror of Roosevelt's ideas. When the best of the open aspirants avows that he is only an excellent copy, is it a wonder that many republicans should demand the "real thing?"

The Las Vegas Optic still opposes the assembling of the constitutional convention on what grounds we do not know. The Optic says the convention would have no authority and would be a waste of time and money. Now as the delegates are to be asked to serve without pay, and as most of them have already signified their willingness to do so, it is hard to see where the people as a whole would be any money or any time either. In addition, if the Optic will read the Citizen or the New Mexican for the few weeks just passed it will notice that Governor Curry has announced that he is in favor of assembling this convention, in the event that the president will consent to favor statehood as seems probable at this time. The Optic is doing a little knocking without knowing why and wherefore.

It is time for somebody to get up a war in order to test the new set of rules originated by the Hague peace conference. According to the conference, it is not polite to shoot anybody under any condition which relieves war of many of its horrors. The embalmed beef, however, we have with us still.

The Albuquerque police are a heartless set. The other night a man who had imbibed too freely of "vino de maiz" went to sleep on the doorstep of an eminently respectable citizen and the police awakened him at 3 a. m. Its sinful to awaken a man at that hour, drunk or sober.

"John G. Capers, the new commissioner of internal revenue, is out with a statement in which he notified internal revenue collectors, inspectors, and others that while he wishes no let-up in vigorous search for violations of law, he desires an exhibition of wisdom in the work." It would help some.

Paris has strong hopes that the Moorish war is over. The French army has suffered severe losses as one man was killed dead and six wounded. The Moors' casualties have not been learned but they are doubtless as heavy. War is a terrific thing—in Casa Blanca.

"I am not a presidential candidate," says Gov. Johnson of Minnesota, "and I do not intend to become one." One citizen, Elias Wright, declined a vice presidential nomination. Men who are not candidates are much more numerous than nominees who refuse to accept.

"She is as stiff as a tree," says a passenger who came over in the Lusitania. "The ocean has no effect on her." After the big ship has been through some severe storms opinions on this point will be noted with interest.

The next summer gals is to be tall and slim without curves or hips, according to the fashion forecasts. What a lot of dieting some of the girls will have to do during the winter. Still there are some who won't.

Several trainmen perished in a wreck on the Denver & Rio Grande. Sometimes trainmen perish just making an ordinary trip on the Denver & Rio Grande and death generally results from fatigue.

Who knows? If Henry C. Frick takes Standard Oil Rogers' place in Wall street he may attempt to reestablish his private army, with which he made such a killing at Homestead.

A Georgia paper says the peek-a-hoo shirt waist is about to pass out of style. How slow they must be down there. The Teddy bear shirt waist has been in vogue all summer.

An exchange estimates that the average hen earns two and a half cents a day—not this way. The average New Mexico hen earns cinco centavos, case grade.

The president has now denied that "Cocktail Charlie" story which will doubtless ease the mind of one favorite son, Fairbanks by name.

A scientist now says he can detect a similarity between Mars and Kansas. Give us Mars for ours.

WHY DID YOU COME WEST?

To rest, recuperate, hunt, fish, breathe fresh pure air, see mountain scenery, get a change, live a new and fascinating life under new conditions and get food that needs no pure food law.
That's why you came west!
There is a beautiful little valley that nestles between the highest mountains of the Rockies on the upper Pecos river; ideal altitude, 7,000 feet, and temperature identical with Albuquerque. Its streams swarm with trout and the woods and ranges are filled with game large and small. The ranchers live the life of the west. There are mountain lion, bear, deer and wolves for the hunter. There are saddle ponies to be had for the asking, rooms in a big, rambling ranch house with wide verandas, tent rooms or a cabin if you want it. The days are never dull. You see a great ranch and the genuine western life. Fresh milk, butter and eggs—all you can drink and eat. Sleep in blankets at night—fish in your shirt sleeves during the day. You couldn't spend more than $2 a week if you tried. Its the place you are looking for. Accommodations for both men and women.
Inquire this office or address THE VALLEY RANCH, Pecos, N. M.

The Degree of Honor will hold a regular meeting tonight at Odd Fellows' hall, commencing promptly at 7:45 o'clock.

Anona Council No. 1, Degree of Potomac, will hold a regular meeting Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in Red Men's hall.

John Finlayson, a well known sheep man of Seligman, Ark., was in the city today on business in connection with the shipment of 1,000 blooded rams to Mexico.

It was reported in the local yards this morning that there were six Santa Fe secret service men, known as spotters, in the city. One of the spotters is said to be a woman.

The Browns may go to Santa Fe again next Sunday. It is up to the players. There is nothing on the tapis locally, and a game with Santa Fe would be practice if nothing else.

The Knights of Columbus will hold an important meeting at 8 o'clock this evening in Red Men's hall. Matters of importance will be brought before the council and a full attendance is requested.

A regular communication of Temple Lodge No. 6, A. F. and A. M., will be held at the hall on Thursday evening, September 15. Visiting Masons cordially invited. By order of W. M. Frank H. Moore, acting secretary.

The old fashioned camp fire, which was recently postponed, will be given at the home of Mrs. Whitecomb on the corner of Eighth street and Tileras avenue, on Friday evening, September 20, by the ladies of the W. R. C. Everybody invited.

The Barcelona Grays contend that they have a right to enter the fair tournament as the first team from Albuquerque unless the Browns play them a game. They have defeated everything wearing baseball suits in this part of the territory and are in a class by themselves unless the Browns show them different.

The social hop given by the German base ball club at Columbo hall last night was a very delightful affair. The music was furnished by the Elks orchestra and the dance given by Supremacy boys and girls. The title of the club, tied with green silk cord, contained eighteen regular dances and four extras. A large number of people were present and the club cleared a neat sum of money.

J. V. Key, supervising engineer for the Santa Fe on the Belen cut-off, said this morning that it would be three months before the road between Belen and Rio Puerco would be completed. The distance between the two places is eighteen miles. The tracks are about six miles apart now, but before this link can be built, a great deal of steam shovel work must be done. The yards at Belen are yet far from completed.

It is said upon good authority that the management of the Socorro baseball team has secured the services of "Dusty" Rhodes, formerly of Las Vegas, but now playing with the St. Louis Nationals, for the territorial fair tournament. Charlie has been playing great ball since he got with fast company and if the Socorro bunch gets a catcher that can receive his balls, the Gem City bunch may cause some of the other entries of the tournament to sit up and take notice.

The Knights of Columbus will hold an important meeting at 8 p. m. this evening in their hall on West Gold avenue. Every member is urgently requested to be present as business of importance will be brought before the meeting for consideration. Applicants for membership are being received by the knights and one of the biggest classes ever initiated here will be given the first, second and third degrees during fair week. A number of applicants from Las Vegas, Santa Fe and other New Mexico towns will attend.

Lon Cox, probably the cleverest stereopticon illusionist in the business and the originator of the faces seen in the moon, will be an additional number on the program at the Crystal theater tonight. Mr. Cox and his show paraphernalia arrived this morning and arrangements are being made this afternoon to put his act on. This feature will be something entirely new to the people of Albuquerque. In fact, it is yet a novelty in the eastern vaudeville houses, where things originate. The act of the year Franks has met with universal approval, of all who have visited the new play house, but their skill is scarcely better than the acts of the other numbers on the bill for the week.

LIFE IN TENT HOUSE WAS NOT ALL PLEASURE

a restaurant at noon which cost us $1.75 a week apiece extra. Figuring up these expenditures you see that it costs each of us almost $11 a week.

Other Expenses.
This does not include the money we spent our household articles and other things for our comfort and convenience. Besides we had to do our own cooking morning and evening and our own housework. The liberties we enjoyed in an establishment were not worth the cost. In fact we could not be too noisy or the neighbors would raise a howl. We fed on the average of six guests a week and our home was made the lounging place of half a dozen homeless young men of the city. Our place never looked neat or inviting and it seemed that all the dogs in the city found us out and came around for stray bones. Twice we had boxes of groceries, which were left outside by the groceryman in absence, rifled; our ice would stand melting in the sun half a day and we were an easy mark for centipedes.

"We may sigh for the joys of home, but let me give you a tip, there can be no such thing as a home without a bunch of skirts in the background. It is needless to state that our expenses for clothing, amusements and personal incidentals were in no wise diminished during our housekeeping experiment."

"LOST IN NEW YORK" SEPT. 20

When a play is a good play it can return year after year and people will fill the opera house to see it—that is success, and when such a play tours the country the success which it enjoys travels like wildfire and that its success makes still bigger the success it has made during past tours so that each succeeding season witnesses increased success.

stage you will not find many such successes, and we doubt very much whether you will find one with a record of longer and greater success than "Lost in New York." It was the first play telling a story of life in the great city of New York, and dates back to its initial performance to about 18 years ago. That alone speaks volumes for it and it is no wonder that people will flock to the theatres every time it is billed to appear.

"Lost in New York" comes to the Elks' theatre on Sept. 20, and it is a safe guess that every seat will be sold.

The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church will give an experience social in the parlor of the church on the eve of Sept. 19th. Entertainment and refreshments will be served. Price 25 cents.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol relieves indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol for dyspepsia does not only relieve indigestion of the stomach, but this famous remedy helps all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

Mr. S. S. Ball, of Ravenswood, W. Va., says: "I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me and we are now using it to build for baby."
